Reserve Galaxy Note 20Tagged: SamsungSamsung Galaxy Note 20Wallpapers The new Samsung Galaxy S7 and S7 Edge are already in stores and turn out to be two of the most popular high-end Android phones so far. Samsung has really stepped up its game design in recent years, and the Galaxy S7 and S7 Edge are the culmination of its design efforts: sleek phones with stunning metal frame and tape glass on the front and back, they nest in the hand comfortably and built almost to perfection. In addition to their exterior visual style, Samsung includes a set of smoke-themed, geometric wallpapers that fit well with different colored versions of the phone: There are two darker, dark blue themed wallpapers that will work well with the piano black version of the S7 Edge, while a set of four light blue wallpapers can work perfectly with the silver version of the phone, while the last two are the last two The warmer tinted wallpaper will be great for the gold version. Either way, they're all pretty stylish and well-suited wallpapers for color choices available with the new Galaxy S7 and S7 Edge. If you're looking for wallpapers that deftly mask the Galaxy S10's punch hole display, Samsung announced last Friday some new Disney and Pixar wallpapers. The wallpapers have characters from Frozen, Incredible, zootopia, and Mickey Mouse animated TV shows. All of them include a blow hole in some way, with Mickey Mouse wallpaper hiding it in the left ear of the famous mouse. Olaf turns a blow hole into one of his You can grab new wallpaper for free from the Galaxy Store app. The initial offer is only for the Galaxy S10 and S10e, with larger options soon. Samsung has not said if it will release Disney and Pixar wallpaper compatible with the Galaxy S10 Plus.However, Samsung said it will expand its current wallpaper options through various collaborations in the near future. Since the launch of the Galaxy S10 back in February, fans and developers have come up with different ways to creatively use the phone's punch hole display. One app turns a punch hole into a notification ring, while another turns it into a battery indicator. There's even an app that captures compatible wallpapers with Reddit if you're not a fan of Samsung's offerings. NEXT: With Huawei and Samsung's ongoing troubles, is the folding phone trend cursed? Tagged: SamsungSamsung Galaxy S10Wallpapers Samsung Galaxy S10 5G won't launch in the UK until the end of this year, but we're already getting a rough idea of what speeds we can expect from this next-generation phone when it does. South Korean mobile operators have revealed some speeds recorded on the flagship smartphone when working on 5G networks. According to recent reports, the Galaxy S10 5G can reach speeds of 4GB/s. To put that into perspective, the 1080p movies available for download from iTunes and Google Play Movies tend to range from 2GB to 4.5GB. So you could download a Hollywood blockbuster in less than 10 seconds. Such speeds are extremely rare in wired fiber broadband connections at home, not to mention mobile data speeds. Mobile operator SK Telecom has confirmed to SamMobile that it has successfully tested its 5G-LTE aggregation system on the Galaxy S10 5G. Using this technology that combines 5G bandwidth and LTE, the phone has reached a peak speed of 2.7Gbps.Those speeds will allow you to download 2GB of film in about six seconds. So you can imagine how staggeringly fast less bandwidth you use - like checking email, or refreshing Facebook or Twitter feed - would be. To achieve an unprecedented 4Gbps speed, SK Telecom used its triple aggregation system with a phone. This combines 5G, LTE and Wi-Fi bandwidth at the same time for data transmission. Triple aggregation will be available to customers who own the Galaxy S10 5G later this year, SK Telecom has confirmed. This will unlock speeds of up to 4Gbps anywhere that all three types of networks are located. Samsung Galaxy S10 5G will launch in the UK with the first wave of 5G networks. The Samsung Galaxy S4 may not be just yet, but cool new wallpapers from the device have already been extracted from the ROM and you can download 7 HD wallpapers as they appear on the device. The Galaxy S4 is expected to arrive in late April until early May (just confirmed to come in May for T-Mobile). The device is equipped with a 5-inch 5-inch The Super AMOLED display, and while the screen is larger, it's actually a little more compact than the previously 4.8-inch S III. Galaxy S4 comes with a 13-megapixel camera and either a Snapdragon 600 or Exynos 5 Octa chip. The device runs on Android 4.2.2 peeled with a fresh Nature UX. Take a look at his wallpaper right below.Source:SamMobile SUBSCRIBE To Our NEWSLETTER! Officially unveiled yesterday in Russia, Samsung Galaxy's thinnest phone - the Galaxy Alpha - is still every bit of news it was 24 hours ago. Of course, our initial impression is that Alpha has generated mixed feelings among the general public (us among them), but it hardly equals doing the device justice - we should consider it first to know exactly what we are dealing with. Don't like Alpha Galaxy? It doesn't matter - you can still enjoy 9 amazing wallpapers packed into it. That's right, the people behind SamMobile have decompiled a firmware test for Alpha that was sent to them some time ago in order to dig out colorful walls. You'll be judged, obviously, but we found that we love Samsung's latest work in this regard - it's very reminiscent of what it did for the Galaxy S5, and it seems that abstract color faucets are the way to go for the company as of late. Anyway, find the gallery slideshow below said 9 wallpapers. If you want to download any or all of them, just zoom in on the image once, right click, and click Save the image as. Easy as this. Enjoy!
